

CIA PREPARES PSYCHOLOGICAL PLAN

Sao Paulo O ESTADO DE SAO PAULO in Portuguese 1 Oct 74 p 34

[Text]The magazine LE POINT reports that the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency gathered its Middle East regional chiefs in Teheran to study a "psychological action plan" against the oil-producing countries. In the edition published day before yesterday, LE POINT declares that the plan is aimed at pressuring the oil-producing countries by spreading rumors of a possible military intervention. The magazine adds that the meeting was held at the request of U.S. Ambassador to Iran Richard Helms. Helms is the former director of the CIA. LE POINT also reveals that Helms convoked the meeting after receiving instructions from Washington. It declared also that the "psychological action plan" was the main point of discussions, however, the magazine does not give the date of the meeting.
